

MEET MESA VERDE ATTORNEY Lauren Doyle of TLD Law

BY JULIE LEAH

An Orange County native and Mesa Verde resident, Lauren Doyle is a second-generation attorney specializing in business and estate law.

Lauren majored in journalism and psychology at New York University and worked in journalism for both Rolling Stone and Cosmopolitan Magazine, before pursuing her legal career. The field of law is in her DNA. Lauren’s father, Mark Doyle, is a senior partner at TLD Law and opened the firm’s Irvine office in 1998.

Lauren said, “I grew up hearing about the legal challenges that everyday people and families experience. I saw how impactful my dad’s work was with clients over the years, and I realized I could combine my own legal expertise with my writing skills and what I learned in journalism and psychology.”

In 2013, Lauren graduated from Western State University College of Law and passed the bar exam. Since 2011, she has worked for TLD Law at their Irvine office.

About TLD Law

TLD Law is also known as Tredway, Lumsdaine, and Doyle, L.L.P. (“TLD Law”) and has regional offices in Irvine, Long Beach, Downey and Beverly Hills. Its team of 19 attorneys have expertise in corporate law, estate planning, tax planning, litigation, real estate, employment law, and intellectual property.

TLD Law is celebrating its 60th anniversary this year and their philosophy is to deliver exceptional and personalized legal work and to always remain accessible to their clients. They have served more than 30,000 clients over four generations in Southern California.

Estate Planning With Lauren Doyle:

Many are under the misconception that estate planning is primarily for the older generation or the uber-wealthy. But the reality is these documents are important for everyone.

Lauren said, “This is about planning for the future and making some tough, but necessary decisions about who would be responsible for managing your estate and caring for your children if something were to happen to you.”

Lauren continued, “If you own a home, you should have an estate plan, because without one, your heirs would be required to go to court and open Probate to have that home passed down to them, which is an expensive and time-consuming process.”

Business Law Services

When starting a business, some early planning can go a long way to prevent future liability and legal issues. Lauren helps clients form business entities, such as corporations and LLCs, which provide the dual benefit of asset protection and centralized management for the business.

Lauren also counsels business owners on day-to-day legal issues, state compliance issues, and helps them draft or negotiate agreements between customers, vendors, employees, and contractors. “Even for small businesses, having proper agreements in place is important to put you in the best position legally if a dispute were ever to arise.”

Finally, Lauren works with business owners to help them protect their ideas and ownership in the business. “If you own a business with a partner, it’s essential to have an agreement in place to address what would happen to the business if either partner wanted to sell their interest, if a partner resigned, passed away, or was subject to a divorce.”

Lauren said, “I am so lucky to have the opportunity to talk with individuals, families, and business owners on a daily basis and help them solve their unique life challenges. It is so rewarding to help people do something that is very meaningful to them.”

Lauren’s message to our Mesa Verde Community:

We help people with trusts, estate, probate, corporate transactions, real estate, employment and litigation needs.
